The cinema is an amazing experience for everyone and this includes people with learning disabilities.

After 4 months of screenings especially for people with a Learning Disability held this year DotComUnity, The Care Division and Empire Cinema Tower Park have made the joint decision to continue these much needed fully inclusive, unique showings.

Designed for people with a learning disability to come and experience the cinema in a friendly, safe and inclusive environment. Everyone is welcome.

We hope these showings will allow people who cannot normally access the cinema or those who have never tried to the opportunity to build on or find a new hobby.

The benefits of these screenings are;

The lights are left on but turned to low.

We only show a few selected trailers at the beginning of the film, we don't want to not show any as this is part of the cinema experience and often just as fun as the film but we have limited the amount and there will be no adds.

You can bring your own food and drink to meet dietary needs but Empire have very kindly created a "treat box" for us which is excellent value at £3 and each box contains a soft drink, popcorn and sweets or chocolate. Of course all other confections are on sale as normal.

Seats are not allocated (unless requested) so you can sit wherever you want. We also have a good number of wheelchair spaces and limit numbers so the cinema is never full giving you plenty of room to move about.

All Empire staff have awareness of learning and physical disabilities and are always willing to lend a hand. At least one member of DocComUnity or The Care Division Staff will also be present at all screenings.

And thanks to Empire Cinema we are able to offer this for the amazing price of £1.50 per person
